

September 22-24, 2017 Conference At American University in Washington, D.C.

Join us for a historic meeting to discover how environmental and peace movements can work together to address the impacts of militarism and put an end to the environmental devastation of warfare.

This event brings together for talks and workshops top activists from both movements.

You're invited to take part. Space is limited. Sign up at WorldBeyondWar.org/NoWar2017

You can also join the September 16th flotilla to the Pentagon!
